

PERFORMANCE COMMENTARY

Global stock markets continued to fall in March with heightened volatility as fears over the impact of the coronavirus on the economy escalated. The Fund fell 9.2% during the month (for comparison, the MSCI World index was down 10.6%).

Fukuda Denshi in Japan was the top performer over the course of the month, up 30%. The company manufactures electronic equipment for medical use, including ventilators. We have owned the company for over 10 years and it has had strong operational performance over this period. We were happy holders of this high quality company before the coronavirus outbreak and it looks very well positioned for the current environment. Other top contributors to performance in the month were Newmont Mining (our largest position) and our telecoms overall (now a combined c.16% Fund position).

Elsewhere, our stocks fell alongside global markets. Yue Yuen (athletic footwear manufacturer) was the largest negative contributor over the month, with the shares down 35%. It remains very well positioned within its industry (top quality clients, manufacturing shifted away from high-cost China and increased automation), but it has been hurt by the impact the coronavirus continues to have on end consumers. Results reported during the month were in line with expectations, and we have retained our position. It is a 1.7% position in the Fund, and trades at just 6x SE.

There was significant activity in the Fund during March as we exited stocks most exposed to a lasting pandemic (the retailers Gap and Next as well as advertiser Publicis), and added Newcrest (increasing our gold mining exposure) and Singapore Telecom (market leader in multiple countries). Please see the quarterly update for more detail.

RELATIVE PERFORMANCE

We focus on long-term, absolute performance, not on short-term relative returns.

We do not track, nor are we constrained by, a benchmark.

We would expect that Fund weightings (geographic, sector and market cap) may vary considerably from those of the MSCI and IA indices.

Track Record Description & Methodology

[‡] The indices are not targets for the Company, nor is the Company constrained by the indices. The ACD has selected the MSCI World Value Index, the MSCI World Index and the IA Global sector as comparators against which shareholders may compare the performance of the Company as it believes these best reflect the Company's asset allocation. For more information please see the Fund's prospectus (available online and upon request).

* The portfolio was launched in July 2007 ("Inception") in Australia as the Contrarian Global Value Fund. The Kennox investment team ran that fund from launch until September 2008. The Kennox Strategic Value Fund was launched in April 2009, comprising 19 of the 20 positions that existed in the Australia fund. We have assumed a static portfolio for the interim period. Performance shown reflects total return of the Institutional Share class. Performance figures are generated from the accumulation shares since their launch on 29 April 2013. Prior to that performance figures are taken from an alternative share class, adjusted to reflect a 1.0% management fee throughout.

+ Sharpe Ratio is calculated as annualised return divided by the standard deviation of the excess return over the Libor 3m Bond yield.

++ Volatility is calculated as the standard deviation of the natural log returns multiplied by the square root of the periodicity of the returns.

Performance figures shown are total return with data for Kennox and the MSCI provided by Kennox/Bloomberg and IA Global data provided by Morningstar

Important Information

The information in this document does not constitute, or form part of, any offer to sell or issue, or any offer to purchase or subscribe for shares, nor shall this document or any part of it or the fact of its distribution form the basis of or be relied on in connection with any contract. Interests in any investment funds managed by Kennox Asset Management will be offered and sold only pursuant to the prospectus relating to such funds.

The Kennox Strategic Value Fund ("Fund") should be considered a long-term investment. You should be aware that the Fund is permitted to invest in markets which are not as well developed or regulated as the UK. As such, investments in those markets may be less liquid, and may have less reliable custody arrangements. Therefore, they may be prone to above average volatility and carry more risk. Where investments are made in smaller companies, these companies' shares may be less liquid than larger companies and the price swings may therefore be greater. You should remember that the value of investments and the income derived therefrom may fall as well as rise and you may not get back the amount that you invest. Past performance is not a guide to future returns.

The Fund is denominated in £ sterling. You should be aware that if sterling appreciates or depreciates against the currencies in which investments are made, this could have an effect on the value of your investment. An investment in the Fund carries a degree of risk and retail investors should seek professional advice before investing in the Fund. Kennox has not taken any steps to ensure that the securities referred to in this document are suitable for any particular investor and no assurance can be given that the stated investment objectives will be achieved.
