

PERFORMANCE COMMENTARY

Following a strong first six months of the year, in July markets reflected increased concerns about rising global Covid cases, with Asian stock markets particularly weak. The Fund was down 1.2% in the month.

Against a backdrop of subdued sentiment in Asia, Fukuda Denshi in Japan was our top performer, up 11.5%. The company, which provides medical equipment, including ventilators, has delivered a robust operating performance, with sales and profits reaching new heights over the pandemic. It has a well positioned product portfolio and we continue to believe long term trends, such as Japan’s aging population, work in its favour. For more than a decade it has grown its sales while maintaining and slightly improving its margins. The company has a strong balance sheet with a significant net cash position and pays a 2.8% dividend. Even after the long term rise in the share price it trades at under 16x our Sustainable Earnings. The next top performer was Admiral, the UK insurer. This is another company that has produced substantial growth and earnings for a number of years, whilst paying a sizeable dividend (5% trailing). An undisputed leader in its field, we remain happy holders.

The worst performers in the month were our two Hong Kong footwear manufacturers Yuen Yuen and Stella International, down 15% and 18% respectively. This is due to fears that rising Covid cases in SE Asia (where both have their factories) might in turn lead to an impact on production and/or an increase in costs. These difficulties remain temporary and both maintain strong balance sheets and weighty competitive advantages, such as scale and technical expertise, which leads to high quality customer bases. They are on 8x and 13x our Sustainable Earnings respectively.

RELATIVE PERFORMANCE

We focus on long-term, absolute performance, not on short-term relative returns.

We do not track, nor are we constrained by, a benchmark.

Reference to the MSCI World, MSCI World Value and IA Global indices are for comparative purposes only.[‡]

We would expect that Fund weightings (geographic, sector and market cap) may vary considerably from those of the MSCI and IA indices.

Track Record Description & Methodology

[‡] The indices are not targets for the Company, nor is the Company constrained by the indices. The ACD has selected the MSCI World Value Index, the MSCI World Index and the IA Global sector as comparators against which shareholders may compare the performance of the Company as it believes these best reflect the Company's asset allocation. For more information please see the Fund's prospectus (available online and upon request).

* The portfolio was launched in July 2007 ("Inception") in Australia as the Contrarian Global Value Fund. The Kennox investment team ran that fund from launch until September 2008. The Kennox Strategic Value Fund was launched in April 2009, comprising 19 of the 20 positions that existed in the Australia fund. We have assumed a static portfolio for the interim period. Performance shown reflects total return of the Institutional Share class. Performance figures are generated from the accumulation shares since their launch on 29 April 2013. Prior to that performance figures are taken from an alternative share class, adjusted to reflect a 1.0% management fee throughout.

⁺ Sharpe Ratio is calculated as annualised return divided by the standard deviation of the excess return over the Libor 3m Bond yield.

⁺⁺ Volatility is calculated as the standard deviation of the natural log returns multiplied by the square root of the periodicity of the returns.

Performance figures shown are total return with data for Kennox and the MSCI provided by Kennox/Bloomberg and IA Global data provided by Morningstar
