

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The Fund aims to provide capital growth over 10 year periods investing at least 80% in a concentrated portfolio of global equities.

PORTFOLIO POSITIONING

The current investment backdrop is characterised by economic distortions, featuring the stunning increase in global debt levels paired with interest rates which were locked at rock bottom levels over a dangerously extended timeframe. In this environment, Kennox’s portfolio looks especially well positioned due to two core traits. First, Kennox exploits inefficiencies that arise from uncertainty, specifically where perceived headwinds drive a company’s share price down to extreme levels. Selectively chosen, these market over-reactions can deliver returns unrelated to wider market returns. Second, Kennox aims to minimise risks, with a focus especially on leverage and peak-valuation risks at present.

Guided by these traits, Kennox is a stock-picker first and foremost. This is represented in the portfolio by holdings such as Canon Marketing Japan, M6 Group, Sky NZ, Stella International or Youngone Holdings. Each are well-run niche companies that fly under most investors’ radars. The portfolio also features concentrations in areas where prospects are especially compelling. One example currently is the energy majors. The global economy remains entirely dependent on fossil fuels but has significantly underinvested in the safe provision of these valuable energy sources. Current low valuations for the leaders in this area, such as Shell, represents an exceptional opportunity. Another concentration for the portfolio is gold miners. In a time where global debt has ballooned and where governments throw increasing amounts of money at any problem, having exposure to a financial asset not linked to monetary distortions, in the form of long-life gold reserves like Newmont’s, is uniquely attractive.

Overall, the portfolio continues to consist of diverse sector leaders trading at attractive valuations, where past headwinds are turning to tailwinds, characterised by low levels of leverage. The portfolio was launched in July 2007 ("Inception") in Australia as the Contrarian Global Value Fund. The Kennox investment team ran that fund from launch until September 2008. The Kennox Strategic Value Fund was launched in April 2009, comprising 19 of the 20 positions that existed in the Australia fund. Kennox has assumed a static portfolio for the interim period. Performance shown reflects total return of the Class A share class. Performance figures are generated from the accumulation shares since their launch on 29 April 2013. Prior to that performance figures are taken from an alternative share class, adjusted to reflect a 0.8% management fee throughout.

Volatility is calculated as the standard deviation of the natural log returns multiplied by the square root of the periodicity of the returns.

Performance figures shown are total return with data for Kennox and the MSCI provided by Kennox/Bloomberg.
